

WILLIAM H. TAFT NAMED CHIEF JUSTICE

FORMER EXECUTIVE APPOINTED BY PRESIDENT HARDING

Senate Confirms the Appointment in Executive Session—Confirmation is Opposed by Senators Borah, Johnson and LaFollette—The Defense is Led by Democrats

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 30.—Former President William Howard Taft was nominated today by President Harding as chief justice of the United States and his nomination was confirmed by the senate in executive session.

The nomination was not confirmed without opposition. A roll call was demanded. The final vote was 60 to 4. The votes against confirmation were cast by Senators Borah, Johnson and LaFollette, Republicans, and Democratic senator from Georgia.

An agreement was reached not to make public the roll call. The senate's doors were closed for discussion of the nomination after suggestions that Mr. Taft be confirmed in "open executive" session because he is a former president had been rejected by his opponents.

Senators Borah and Johnson fought on the floor in opposition to Mr. Taft, while he was defended by about a dozen senators, including Knox of Pennsylvania, Kellogg of Minnesota and Smith of Ohio, Republicans, and Greenwood of Alabama, minority leader, and Smith of South Carolina, former man of North Carolina, Democrats.

Senators Borah and Johnson declared to have centered their fight on Mr. Taft's legal experience and qualifications. According to reports from the senate chamber, Senator Johnson was said to have declared that Mr. Taft's appointment was "purely political."

Senator Johnson, it was stated, asserted Mr. Taft had not regarded himself as a lawyer but as a politician and had "abandoned his legal position after leaving the White House."

The senator it was said, said he was voicing his opinion solely because Mr. Taft lacked, for nearly a generation or more, any legal experience which would fit him for the judicial post of the nation.

Defense of Mr. Taft, it was said, as led by Democrats, Senator Underwood said Mr. Taft made himself "beloved by the people" adding that this sentiment, when president, of the late Chief Justice Taft, to the highest judicial post of the country.

Mr. Taft's legal learning was said, it was said, by Senators Knox and Willis, the latter referring to his experience on the bench in Ohio.

Mr. Taft had not been apprised of his appointment, it was stated, until the White House and the first time he came to the press. He is reported as having said in a statement that he might some day become chief justice is said by Taft's close friends to have been the aspiration nearest his heart. It is said that he always felt himself better fitted by temperament to serve in the judiciary than in the executive branch of the government.

When he came to the presidency of Ohio, Mr. Taft now elected chief justice as a citizen of Connecticut. Soon after he left the White House he made his home in the residence of his grandfather, Judge Taft, at the Cincinnati Law Academy, where he was graduated in 1878. He prepared for the practice of law at the Cincinnati Law Academy, where he was graduated in 1878. He prepared for the practice of law at the Cincinnati Law Academy, where he was graduated in 1878.

MODIFICATION OF ARMY MEASURE BEASKED-HARDING

President Told Congress This When He Signed Bill

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 30.—President Harding informed congress today that while he had signed the army appropriation bill with its provision for a reduction of the regular army to one hundred fifty thousand men by next October, it might be necessary to ask for modification of the measure later to avoid embarrassment to the secretary of war.

The executive declared in a special message that summary dismissal from the army of men who had enlisted for a longer period than October 1 would seem to involve a repudiation of a moral obligation by the government which would have its effect upon the morale of the army and possibly influence enlistments in the future.

The nature of the modifications which might be asked for later was not disclosed nor did the president explain how it was proposed to meet the moral obligation to the men and carry out the direction of congress to reduce the force by some seventy thousand men in the next three months.

Will Try to Meet Requirements
He did say, however, that every effort will be made to meet the requirements of the congress at the earliest possible date.

Secretary Weeks in discussing the bill today, said that if the war department succeeded in meeting the limitations imposed by congress some thirty thousand civilian employees of the army besides the seventy thousand enlisted men would be thrown on the labor market to complicate the unemployment situation. He added that for the present no enlisted men would be discharged against their wishes.

In signing the bill, President Harding was understood to have followed a course regarded by his advisers as the only practicable one in view of the insistence of both the house and senate that the army be reduced as proposed in the measure and the short time remaining before the end of the fiscal year.

ANNOUNCE FORMATION OF COUNTY LEAGUE

Purpose Is to Prevent Domination of State by City of Chicago

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 30.—Formation of a county representation league of Illinois, to forestall "domination of the state by Chicago" through unrestricted representation in the legislature, was announced today.

The league's purpose is stated to be "to secure for each county a member of the state house of representatives and a just equalization of legislative power between the urban and other districts of the state."

State wide organization of the league is planned, it was said. Officers are Robert McCurdy, Chicago president; Lee Mighell, Aurora, secretary; Charles H. Ireland, Washburn, Woodford county treasurer.

The plan of representatives will replace that now in practice which is now by districts.

The cheese will be manufactured at Lowville for exhibition at the state fair in Syracuse in September. It will weigh 12 tons and will require 150,000 pounds of milk or one day's output of 7,500 cows, Mr. Hogue said.

WESLEYAN FUND OF $660,000 IS OVERSUBSCRIBED

Bloomington, Ill., June 30.—This city is ablaze, of red and blue, and parading crowds of people around the streets of the up-town district tonight, in celebration of the successful completion of the thirty days' campaign for raising $660,000, to add to the equipment of the Illinois Wesleyan University.

The campaign was confined to the city of Bloomington, and county of McLean, and so great was the impetus which the drive attained during the last few days that the amount was over-subscribed, the final total being about $750,000.

The campaign results also in a gift of an additional $150,000 given by John McBurnes and wife, wealthy farming people, who dedicate this sum to a memorial building for the soldiers and sailors of all wars, to be erected on the Wesleyan campus.

With this campaign successfully accomplished, the Wesleyan will now raise a million dollars for additional endowment outside of McLean county to be subscribed by the two Methodist conferences which are the supporting territory of the university which is expected to be accomplished within the next year. PRESIDENT WILL GET COMPROMISE AGREEMENT TODAY

Will Receive Resolution Ending State of War With Germany

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 30.—President Harding is expected to receive tomorrow the compromise congressional resolution ending the state of war with Germany and Austria.

By a vote of 263 to 59 the house today adopted the conference draft of the resolution and it was taken up in the senate in an effort to complete its enactment, but went over after an hour's debate until tomorrow with favorable action there said to be assured.

Discussion in both senate and house centered mainly on the provisions as to enemy alien property and the controversy over ending the state of war by declaring peace or by repealing the war resolutions.

Representative Flood of Virginia, senior Democrat of the foreign affairs committee, said the country had been saved from humiliation by decision to declare a state of peace. Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, author of the original peace measure, said either method would accomplish the desired result.

Treaty of Peace to Follow
That a treaty of peace is to follow the peace resolution was suggested by Senator Knox and others during senate discussion. Referring to the resolution's provision for holding enemy alien property, Senator Knox said it meant "nothing but an expression by congress that we do not intend to have claims of the United States (against enemy countries) ignored, waived or respected."

Senator Knox continued, "to the president when he comes to settle the terms of peace with Germany, that these things should be taken care of."

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, replied that it was perfectly obvious that such a treaty to be entered into must regard the instructions from congress.

The administration either would have to negotiate a separate treaty or ratify the treaty of Versailles in some form, Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking Democrat of the foreign relations committee said, reiterating that the peace measure was an "idle act."

WILLIS CAMPBELL ANTI-BEER BILL READY TO SUBMIT

Only Minor Changes Made in Measure by the Committee

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 30.—Recommendation for favorable report on the Willis Campbell anti-beer bill was voted today by a senate judiciary subcommittee after several minor changes had been made in the measure as it passed the house.

Changes to be recommended by the subcommittee would afford greater protection to manufacturers, dealers and consumers of industrial alcohol but would not affect the three main provisions. These prohibit the prescription of beer as medicine, limit prescriptions issued by physicians for vinous or spirituous liquors to one hundred in 90 days and extend provision of the prohibition enforcement act to Hawaii and the Virgin Islands.

Chairman Sterling of the subcommittee said the bill would be submitted to the full committee probably next Tuesday and be taken up in the senate as soon as possible after it was reported.

MAKE REPORT ON TRANSPORTATION
Chicago, June 30.—Private ownership and operation of local transportation lines "qualified by public regulation, have resulted in division of control, confusion and ultimate disaster," the city council transportation committee said in a report today summing up the results of a recent tour to investigate transportation conditions in other cities. The report pointed out that "as long as plans for solution of the transportation problem are made the means to political ends or are put forward as the virtues of one political faction, nothing can be gained."

BIG CUTS ARE MADE BY GOVERNOR SMALL IN OMNIBUS MEASURE

Executive Uses the Pruning Knife on Appropriations Without Regard to Feelings—Over Million and Half Dollars Cut Off—State Normal Fund Eliminated Entirely

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 30.—Governor Small used his veto power tonight as a keen weapon against his foremost political opponent—Attorney General Brundage—when he slashed from the omnibus bill amounts totalling $387,200 annually which had been appropriated to the attorney general's office.

The first cut eliminated entirely an annual appropriation of $75,000 specifically set aside for enforcement of the prohibition laws. Control of the liquor law enforcement machinery of the state was an issue throught the session which formally ended tonight and the governor played his strongest hand, the veto—to win.

In addition to the enforcement appropriation the governor also cut off $46,500 for inheritance tax attorneys and $175,000 dollars for all other support of special attorneys connected with the attorney general's office.

Veto of these amounts was a stiff blow to many lawyers, lieutenants of the Brundage organization. "This leaves us without a highway, waterway and other attorneys necessary for work throughout the state," said Assistant Attorney General Masfield as he scanned the veto.

Total reductions from the forty-one million dollar omnibus bill amounted to over one million five hundred thousand dollars. The seven hundred sixty thousand revolving fund for the state normal schools was vetoed as unconstitutional and six hundred thirty-four thousand dollars for additional work on the new state penitentiary was cut off.

Other bills signed by Governor Small included the following:

S.B. 23 (Hicks)—Authorizes a two mill tax for community buildings.

S.B. 245 (Barbour)—Authorizes tax of 1.6 mills for Chicago police pensions.

S.B. 257 (Clark)—Creates pension fund for park policemen.

S.B. 322 (Dailey)—Provides for licensing real estate brokers.

S.B. 425 (Barr)—Authorizes tax of three tenths of a mill for teachers' pension in Chicago and increases full annuity from four hundred to six hundred dollars.

H.B. 417 (Young)—Raises the maximum tax under the Chicago consolidation of local government law from one and six tenths to two and thirty-five hundredths percent.

H.B. 418—Establishes a mining investigating commission.

H.B. 421 (Mueller)—Provides that forest preserve districts shall not exceed one mill.

H.B. 455 (Holaday)—Provides that road bonds shall bear not more than six percent interest.

H.B. 530 (Mariener)—Provides that fines for overdue books in libraries shall be paid into the pension fund.

H.B. 564 (Committee on Education)—Raises to age 18 compulsory attendance at time of continuation schools.

S.B. 485 (Sneed)—Amends coal mining act by providing inspection of boilers and prescribes rules for firing shots.

S.B. 530 (Barr)—Authorizes transfer of prisoners to the state farm at Vandalia.

H.B. 264 (Thon)—Provides for a physician on the board of national resources and conservation advisers and for laboratories for research into the causes and methods of cure of mental and physical defects of inmates of state institutions.

H.B. 636 (Young)—Provides that counties shall pay into the pension fund in 1922 a sum equal to and annually thereafter a sum double amount deducted from employees' salaries.

H.B. 637 (Bentley)—Establishes state standards of weights and measures.

H.B. 729 (Committee on Waterways)—Requires Chicago sanitary district to have sewage treatment plants in operation by 1925. Increases trustees salaries from five thousand to seven thousand five hundred dollars and provides for the election of the president of the board by the trustees from among their own number.

H.B. 733 (Watson)—Provides mines inspection act. Provides for the appointment of a state mine inspector at three thousand six hundred dollars a year.

H.B. 847 (Committee on Finance)—Increases mothers' allowance from $15 to $25 and permits a maximum of $10 month for each additional child.

BILLY MASON'S DAUGHTER WILL TAKE HIS PLACE

Governor Given Power to Fill Vacancy

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 30.—Governor Small, it was learned tonight will appoint Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck as a member-at-large in congress to complete the unexpired term of her father, the late William E. Mason. A resolution empowering the governor to fill the vacancy was adopted when the legislature met late today.

Governor Small's message was not completed when the general assembly went into session so both houses recessed until 8 p.m.

William Hale Thompson in a message to the legislature invited the members to attend the pageant of progress which opens in Chicago, July 30.

Joker in Bill
Discovery of a joker in a bill whose purpose ostensibly was to permit cities to maintain fire and police alarms for private use was made tonight after the governor signed the measure.

Buried in the bill is a clause which authorizes a three percent tax on baseball games. The measure was introduced to Senator Glackin of Chicago. It got through as an amendment to the cities and villages act.

Two waterway commissions were created, one to investigate the proposed Great Lakes to Atlantic route, the other to investigate the feasibility of an interstate harbor at Wolf lake on the Illinois-Indiana line.

Who says that building costs are not getting down to a more normal figure? The secretary of the district school board in Litchfield recently stated that the bids for an addition contemplated there indicate a cost just 20 per cent below the amount expected when bonds were authorized.

Iroquois county is to have a constabulary force even if the legislature did not provide for it with the proposed law. A hundred and fifty men have been sworn in as deputy sheriffs throughout the county. They do not devote all of their time to their tasks but are subject to call and are expected to help rid the county of automobile thievery. Offenses have become so flagrant recently that the protection of the new force of deputy sheriffs was demanded.

Bloomington and McLean county did it. The good people there have shown how a huge fund for an educational institution can be raised and last night the total subscriptions were well in excess of the $660,000. An additional $150,000 for a soldiers' memorial came as a glad surprise.

Now the ex-service men who were disappointed about the defeat of the proposal at the last election will have the feeling that the defeat was well ordered.

REFORM IN SPRINGFIELD.

A wave of reform is on in Springfield and the commissioner of the police department has ordered discontinuance of the use of punch boards. This form of gambling was devised principally to attract the interest of the boys and girls. There should be no criticism of the Springfield department for this new order, but an outsider cannot help but wonder if these minor infractions of the law are not being given attention while greater offenses are winked at officially.

NO EASY TASK.

If Charles G. Dawes accomplishes the task set out for him as director of the budget of the U. S., his will be one of the greatest accomplishments of the ages. He must submit a plan for reorganizing the government departments and in showing congress a way in which to cut down expenditures, must at the same time cut a lot of red tape and do away with countless salaried positions.

There will be opposition and the budget chief's path will not be strewn with roses. But it's a task of the kind for which he is eminently fitted and nothing suits Gen. Dawes better than opposition.

THE DEBT TO DISABLED SOLDIERS.

It is difficult to understand how the government can be so lax in its provision for disabled ex-service men. For months past there have been repeated statements that the government's red tape and the multiplicity of agencies were resulting in the work being only half done and ex-service men disabled mentally or physically receiving not one-half of the care to which they are entitled.

Now another effort is being made to right these conditions thru the passage of the Sweet bill. It is certainly an outrage and a disgrace to think that inefficiency and duplication can result in the conditions which are now complained of and the charges have been proven.

Certainly there should be no long discussion about the passage of this relief bill, which purports to so co-ordinate agencies that relief will be given promptly.

ALMOST UNANIMOUS FOR A SAFE DISARMAMENT.

Quite frequently the complaint is heard that there are too many men down in congress who do not want disarmament and who prefer to have this country going ahead with its huge expenditures for the maintenance of the army and the navy, and especially for the increase of armament. That these complaints are not well founded is shown by the overwhelming vote of 330 to 4 given in favor of the measure originating with Senator Borah, providing for a disarmament conference by the U. S., Great Britain and Japan.

It is seldom that there is such unanimity of spirit shown in Washington on the discussion of any public question. Most of the opponents to disarmament are only opponents in so far as they want to be certain that any disarmament program here is duplicated by other great powers and that the U. S. shall not be lulled to sleep and later find itself in an unhappy condition of unpreparedness.

REDUCTIONS IN BILL OBJECTED TO

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Objections to house reductions in the naval appropriation bill today died up the measure in the senate and with all appropriations expiring with the fiscal year at midnight tonight, caused a technical lapse in funds.

Final disposition of the bill tomorrow was the aim and hope of leaders of both the senate and house, but they were prepared to rush thru an emergency resolution continuing present naval appropriations, should the deadlock continue.

Senate opposition to the house conference report was largely on two items, elimination of all provisions for airplane carriers and a house amendment broadening the navy retirement law so as to extend regular retirement pay and other privileges to enlisted men as well as officers of the reserve corps.

JUST SENT THEM HERE, HE STATES

Had to Tell Any Sufferer How Tanlac Freed Him of Asute Indigestion—Gains 18 Pounds.

"I have gained back all my lost weight, since I started taking Tanlac and eighteen pounds besides, and I don't believe I felt better twenty years ago than I do now," said John W. Fanning, of 350 East Lafayette avenue, Jacksonville, Ill.

"My stomach got out of order five years ago," continued Mr. Fanning, "and since then other troubles set in and pulled me down until I was nearly a physical wreck. Just about every thing I ate hurt me and caused me to lie flat up with gas something terrible. I was subject to attacks of acute indigestion, when the pains and cramps in my stomach simply drew me double. When these attacks came on me I had sharp pains around my heart and felt like I was smothering to death. I often had sudden spells of dizziness. I couldn't sleep to amount anything, was unable to work regularly, and I couldn't even get out of the house for six weeks. I got a bottle of Tanlac and began to straighten me out. While I was taking only three bottles I am feeling so fine I can't tell there was ever anything wrong with me. My stomach was never in better condition and I haven't had one of those spells of indigestion since I finished my first bottle. My appetite is fine and calls for things I haven't been able to eat in years, but I can digest them as good as I ever could. Those dizzy spells have all disappeared and I sleep like a top. I've gained eighteen pounds over what I lost and if a man ever felt so new, I'm that man."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Shreve's Drug Store and all leading druggists.—Adv.

EARLY METHODISM IN CHICAGO AREA

Some Interesting Facts Set Forth in Communication from Bishop Nicholson.

Chicago, Ill., June 30.—Bishop Thomas Nicholson, resident bishop of Chicago, of the Methodist Episcopal church, issued a statement today to the preachers and laymen of the Chicago area regarding the primacy of Methodism in Chicago. Bishop Nicholson in his statement says:

"It seems clear that Methodism was the first Protestant church to open religious work in what is now Chicago, and that the service of Methodism to the city antedated the founding of the village of Chicago, itself, by at least five years. It was the early Methodist itinerant who preached to the early settlers here on the lake front before Chicago was ever a recognized village."

The first Methodist class meeting was held by Jesse Walker in the old Fort Dearborn garrison where also a religious meeting was held. The following is the full text of Bishop Nicholson's note on the "Primacy of Methodism" in Chicago.

"I have the following note from the Rev. Dr. John H. Ryan, Dwight, Ill., who is probably the best informed man in the state of Illinois on matters relating to the early history of Methodism in the state of Illinois and of the relation of Methodism to the affairs of state and to the public service. He says:

"In the issue of the 'Christian Advocate' of June 9 I read, 'The Methodist Society organized in 1831 in a log cabin on the West Side was the first Christian church of any kind to be formed in the city.' The Rev. S. R. Beggs in his 'Early History of the West and the Northwest', pages 86 and 87, tells of walking from Plainfield to Chicago with Jesse Walker, a distance of forty miles, and of holding a meeting, in the old Fort Dearborn garrison where the first class was organized. When appointed to this work the next year he found the little class he had formed a few months before standing fast in the liberty of the Gospel and he continues to say that, 'Our meetings were generally held in the fort,' page 94. The room, which was Dr. Harmon's room in the garrison, may have been as unpretentious as a settler's cabin, but it is a little more significant historically."

I note that another writer in one of our church papers within two or three weeks has called attention to this early visit of Jesse Walker to Chicago, placing the date in the late twenties, probably as early as 1827. It seems clear that Methodism was the first Protestant church to open religious work in what is now Chicago, and that the service of Methodism to the city antedated the founding of the village of Chicago itself by at least five years. It was the early Methodist itinerant who preached to the early settlers here on the lake front before Chicago was even a recognized village."

MURRAYVILLE LADIES AID MET THURSDAY

Murrayville, June 30.—The birthday social of the Ladies Aid society of the Murrayville M. E. church was held Thursday afternoon in the church basement. There were about forty present and all greatly enjoyed the occasion. A brief program was given during the afternoon, including readings by Mrs. Lida Jones, Mrs. A. H. Kennedy and Mrs. W. W. Wesner. A vocal solo by Miss Hazel Blakeman added much to the pleasure of the afternoon.

Following the program came a brief business session, when plans were discussed for the annual picnic which this year will be held on July 28. Later came a social hour and the serving of delightful refreshments, consisting of ice cream, angel food cake and fruit cocktail.

The hostesses were members whose birthdays fall in May, June and July. They were: Mrs. Sarah Mehrhoff, Mrs. Gustafson, Marie Fanning, Mrs. Annie Story, Mrs. W. W. Wesner, Mrs. Lida Jones, Mrs. A. H. Y. M. C. A. SCHOLARSHIPS WIDELY DISTRIBUTED

Work of Educational Section Has Been Very Effective — Many Testify to Benefits.

Secy. Findley of the Y. M. C. A. has received a letter from George E. Wallace, educational service director, stating that the work of the department will close July 1. The department of work awards of scholarships to the number of 5,000 were authorized from every county in the state. The letter expresses the appreciation of the director for the co-operative service given by the secretaries and regret that it was not possible to meet some special cases, men who were worthy but whose cases for one reason or another did not fully meet the conditions that the department had laid down.

Some of the good results obtained in this department of work are manifest in the following paragraphs, taken from a resume of the general work. It is interesting to note in this connection that thru the local Y. M. C. A. 11 college scholarships were awarded to a value of $860 and 8 secondary scholarships to the value of $514. The statement referred to is as follows:

Opening Doors to Opportunity
"I am thankful to say that I have found work for odd hours and did not need any help for the second semester, and what might have come to me can go to some other fellow. But let me say that the $100 which you gave me opened the door of opportunity to me which otherwise would have remained closed."

So wrote an ex-service man, a student in a southern college to a state supervisor of the educational service of the National War Work council of the Y. M. C. A. which conceived and executed what is probably the largest single educational enterprise undertaken for ex-service men subsequent to the world war, by which $1,053 of these men were given scholarship awards totalling in value $1,625,225 in universities and colleges and in vocational and other schools below collegiate grade.

These funds were allotted to the various states on the basis of population and a committee was appointed for each state to administer the funds. This committee in turn apportioned the fund to the various counties, also on the basis of population and apportioned the fund to the various counties, also on the basis of population and appointed local committees—made up of business men, school superintendents, college professors, lawyers, other professional men and ex-service men to receive applications for scholarship, determine the fitness of applicants and make awards. There were 1,622 of these committees, with over 7,000 volunteer members, and the men in the most remote sections had equal opportunity with the men in the large centers of population to benefit under the fund.

Of the $1,053 scholarships awarded, 12,473, totalling in value $1,095,441, were in institutions of collegiate grade and 93,075 totalling in value $3,519,784, were awarded in vocational and other schools under collegiate grade. Of these last 33,714, valued at $1,279,200, were awarded in Y. M. C. A. resident schools; 14,126, valued at $982,173, were awarded in non-Y. M. C. A. resident schools and 21,225 valued at $1,258,405, were awarded in correspondence schools.

It is interesting to note that the average of the scholarship awards in resident Y. M. C. A. schools is $35, while the average in resident non-Y. M. C. A. schools is $62, due largely to the special study that has been given by the Y. M. C. A. in recent years to vocational training, in an endeavor not only to learn the needs of men but to find the best methods of supplying these needs at the least possible cost consistent with effective service.

Many men living in remote places found it impossible to attend resident schools but still desired to take up some form of educational training. Here the correspondence schools were of valuable and proved exceedingly helpful, especially to these isolated men. The demand for this method of instruction was so great that the Y. M. C. A. established a correspondence school, with headquarters in New York, in an endeavor to meet this need upon the same lines that men's needs were being met by the local Y. M. C. A., namely maximum service at minimum cost.

VALUE OF LIFE GUARD
AT NICHOLS ARK
What might have been a very serious accident was averted at the park yesterday when one of the young ladies of the state hospital gave out while attempting to swim across the lake. The guard was in a boat on the east side and was thus able to get to her sooner than if he had been at the bath house. Outside of being a little weak no serious trouble resulted.

It seems to a person looking on that a boat should also be kept for emergency sake. Most people can row a boat but few can swim strong enough to carry a drowning person to shore. Only one other boy was there who was able to get to the young lady and he reached her about the same time as the guard.

POLICE CAPTURE SIX GALLONS OF MOONSHINE

Receive Tip That Liquor Is Being Smuggled in from Springfield—Those in Charge are Fined $50 Each and Costs.

As the result of a tip, Chief of Police Kiloran and the day police force yesterday captured Mrs. John Atterberry and George Johnson, both colored and incidentally the biggest stone jug the chief had ever seen. The contents of this jug was old fashioned moonshine.

The jug had a capacity of six gallons and was filled to the brim with liquor, enough to give the whole town a jag if properly distributed.

Chief Kiloran after getting the tip that the parties were headed toward Jacksonville in an automobile with the liquor aboard, made preparations to give them a fitting reception. It had been the intention of the chief to meet them at the city limits but being a little late he discovered the liquor auto turning into South Main street from Morton avenue.

The police car took up the trail and after being led thru alleys and other devious ways finally landed in front of the Atterberry residence in Broadway alley. Here the police took custody of the jug and also Mrs. Atterberry and Johnson.

When the station was reached the chief did a little investigating and found that the city has an ordinance providing for a fine of $50 and costs for transporting liquor into Jacksonville. The culprits were taken before Justice Bayha and each was assessed the maximum fine and costs making a total of $108 to be placed in the city treasury.

In addition to this fine Chief Kiloran will turn the matter over to the federal authorities and it is probable that the way of the transgressors will be harder still before they get thru with the affair.

EMANUEL ALVES DIES AT AGE OF 97 YEARS

Had Been Resident of County for Nearly Three Quarters of Century—Sister Lived to Age of 109 Years.

Emanuel Alves, one of the oldest residents of Morgan county, died about 2:30 Thursday afternoon at his home northwest of Jacksonville. He was ninety-seven years old at the time of his death.

Mr. Alves was born in the Island of Madeira, June 24, 1824. In 1847 he accompanied his family to America, and after a short stay in New York came to Jacksonville where he lived until the time of his death. The trip from New York City to Naples, Illinois, was made entirely by boat, by way of the Hudson river, the Erie canal, the Great Lakes and the Illinois river.

The Alves family all lived to remarkable ages. The oldest member was a sister, Mrs. Mary A. Smith, who died a few months ago at her home as Springfield, Ill., at the age of 109 years. Two brothers and one sister of deceased are still living. These are John Alves, Salt Lake City to Naples, Illinois, aged 84, and Mrs. J. Fignieria, Brooklyn aged 87. Pictures of the Alves family were recently published in the Salt Lake Tribune, with a lengthy historical article.

Mr. Alves was a member of the Northminster Northminster Presbyterian church of Jacksonville. Besides the brothers and sister already mentioned, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Alves, by three sons, William, John and Benjamin, and by one daughter, Mary.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

SPECIAL REVENUE TAXES NOW DUE GOVERNMENT

Taxes Must Be Paid to Collectors Before Final Day of This Month.

Forms for filing returns of special taxes upon business and occupations are now available at offices of collectors of internal revenue and branch officers. These taxes are due July 1, and are held by the Bureau of Internal Revenue to be delinquent unless paid on or before July 31. The list includes the tax on brokers, pawnbrokers, museums, theatres, and concert halls, circuses, bowling alleys, shooting galleries, riding academies and automobiles operated for hire.

When the tax is paid a stamp is issued by the collector of internal revenue, which the person engaged in the business or occupation subject to the tax is required to post conspicuously in his place of business. Failure in this respect renders the offender liable to a penalty equal to the special tax, and the cost of prosecution. In no case is the penalty less than $10.

The tax on brokers, whose business it is to negotiate for others purchases or sales of stocks, bonds, exchange, bullion, coined money, promissory notes or other securities, and produce or merchandise, is $50 a year. If the broker is a member of a stock exchange, produce exchange, board of trade or similar organization which sells produce or merchandise and the average value during the preceding year ended June 30 of a seat or membership in such organization was $2,000 and not more than $5,000 he is required to pay an additional tax of $100. If such value was more than $5,000 he is required to pay an additional tax of $150. Pawnbrokers are subject to a special tax of $100 a year.

The tax on ship brokers, whose business it is to negotiate freights and other business for the owners of vessels or for consignors or consignees of freight carried by vessels, is $50 a year.

Customhouse brokers, whose business, as the agent of others, is to arrange entries and other customhouse papers or to transact business at any port of entry relating to the importation or exportation of goods and merchandise, pay a special tax of $50 a year.

Theaters, museums and concert halls are taxed according to their seating capacity, and the population of the city or town in which they are located. Those having a seating capacity of not more than two hundred and fifty are taxed $50; seating capacity of more than two hundred and fifty and not exceeding five hundred $100; exceeding five hundred and not exceeding eight hundred, $150; in excess of eight hundred, $200. The tax in cities or towns of 5,000 inhabitants or less is one-half of these amounts. This tax is paid by the proprietor. The special tax on circuses is $100.

The tax on bowling alleys and billiard rooms is $10 for each alley or table. Shooting galleries are subject to a tax of $20. The tax on riding academies is $100. Persons carrying on the business of renting or operating passenger automobiles for hire are required to pay a tax of $10 for each such automobile having a seating capacity of more than two and not more than seven and $20 for each such automobile having a seating capacity of more than seven.

Special taxes on manufacturers of tobacco products are due also in July, and on manufacturers and wholesale and retail dealers in oleomargarine, adulterated and renovated butter, filled cheese, and persons engaged in the manufacture of mixed flour.

Returns of the capital stock tax also are required on or before July 31. The capital stock tax applies to every corporation carrying on or doing business in the United States. The tax on domestic corporations is $1 for each $1,000 of so much of the fair average value of its capital stock for the preceding year ended June 30 as is in excess of $5,000. Foreign corporations are required to pay a tax of $1 for each $1,000 of the average amount of its capital stock employed in the transaction of its business in the United States during the preceding year ended June 30, without the benefit of the $5,000 deduction.

Penalties ranging from a fine not to exceed $1,500 for failure and not to exceed $10,000, or one year's imprisonment, or both, for wilful refusal to make return and pay the taxes are prescribed by the revenue act.

FORCIBLY EJECT RELIGIOUS SECT

Had Occupied Government Land Near Queenstown, Cape Colony—Many Killed in Battle With Police.

CAPETOWN.—(By A. P.)—A native religious sect which calls itself the "Israelites," under a "prophet" named Enoch, who refused to evacuate government land at Bulhoek, near Queenstown, Cape Colony, has been forcibly ejected, losing 171 killed and 126 wounded in a fight with mounted Cape police.

For some years past, the government had permitted the "Israelites" to celebrate "Passover" on a common but each year a growing number of pilgrims remained behind on what they called "holy ground" until a village of some 350 huts had sprung up. The sect forbade anybody to enter the village, or to recognize any authority except orders from "Jehovah, the God of Israel," as interpreted by Enoch the prophet.

The government some time ago endeavored to register the settlement but the police were obliged to withdraw to avoid bloodshed.

Peaceful efforts by the Secretary of Native Affairs and others to induce the "Israelites" to withdraw failed. They steadfastly refused to go.

Finally a force of 800 mounted police moved from Queenstown to demand the surrender of the village. With shouts of "Jehovah says we must fight," 4,000 natives charged the police with swords and assegais, the women urging on the men with wild religious chants. The police let them come on until within 30 yards and then fired, with the result stated.

Thereupon the prophet Enoch surrendered and the village is to be demolished.

The affair has caused some stir in the Cape House of Assembly. Premier Smuts declared that in view of the natives' obstinacy, there was no other way to make them understand that they must obey the law.

Chief Justice of High Court of That Country Takes Exception to American Spelling of Program—We Should Feel Real Badly About It.

SYDNEY, N. S. W.—Sir Adrian Knox, chief justice of the high court of Australia, does not approve of the modern American method of spelling a number of words.

Last month an affidavit was presented in the high court, containing an extract from a letter written in America, in which the English word "programme" was Americanized to "program."

His Honor said he would like Americans to know that Australia was not a dependency of the United States. The spelling of English words should be done in the proper way. The High Court, he said, was quite content to adhere to the good old style of English spelling. Having pointed to the spelling of "center" as "center," his Honor hoped that this method of orthography was not taught in the schools. "This is an Americanism I abhor," he added.

Referring to the incident Mr. W. F. Gates, inspector of Schools in Victoria declared that the chief justice had placed himself in antagonism to the Philological Societies of Great Britain and America and to Murray, the recognized modern lexicographer. The Victorian Education Department had adopted a small number of simplifications of spelling such as "program," "center," and "now." It had also adopted the ending "ize" instead of "ise." The dithough "ae" had been dropped too.

"But," declared Mr. Gates, "for every simplification there is the highest English authority and it is therefore not correct for Sir Adrian to refer to 'program' and 'center' as American spelling just because these words are so spelt in the United States publications."

INSTALL TELEPHONES ON AUTOMOBILES Pasadena, Cal.—(By A. P.)—Wireless telephones installed on the automobiles of the anti-burglar motor fleet of the Pasadena police department recently enables officers to communicate with headquarters while their machines are in motion. Every machine operated by the department has been so equipped, it was announced recently.

The appliance enables officers to telephone for reinforcements if necessary, while pursuing motor handits. Installation of the phones on regular beats, to obviate the stringing of wires for enlargement of the old call box system also is contemplated.

ALL ARE URGED TO PICNIC AT PARK

All Citizens are invited to Take Their Dinners and Spend the Day at Mauvaisterre Park July 4.

All citizens are urged to make plans for spending July 4 at Mauvaisterre park and help celebrate the completion of the new water system.

The committee earnestly desires that families make their plans for taking picnic dinner at the park, hear the speaking, see the unveiling of the tablet and enjoy the sports.

There is plenty of room, there will be refreshment stands and everything that goes to make an enjoyable outing. When you do your shopping Saturday do it with the thought in mind of being among those present at the park.

Remember there will be something doing all day. In addition to the sports will be launch riding on the new lake. Those who desire can take along fishing tackle and spend the time fishing. Don't forget the time and the place, MAUVAISTERRE PARK, MONDAY, JULY 4.

Miss Elizabeth Spradlin of St. Clair was among the callers in the city yesterday.

The horse has proven to be so expensive for a general proposition and in many places, that it is up to you to study carefully your requirements and replace this costly animal with the up-to-date machine.

FAMOUS INDIAN CHIEF PASSES ON

Iron Lightning Dies at Home Near Thunder Butte—Was One of Sitting Bull's Chiefs in Custer Massacre.

PIERRE, S. D.—(By A. P.)—In the recent death of Chief Iron Lightning, at his home near Thunder Butte in the northwestern part of the Cheyenne Indian reservation, the country lost probably the greatest of the few remaining famous Indian characters who figured in the early history of Dakota Territory.

Iron Lightning was one of the sub-chiefs, who under Sitting Bull, participated in the memorable battle of the Little Big Horn, June 25, 1876, when Custer and his band of 261 men were annihilated. He is said to be the last of the chiefs who were in control of the Sioux Nation at that time. He was 76 years old at the time of his death and had for years made his home in the vicinity of Thunder Butte station.

Unusually tall and well proportioned, even for an Indian, and possessing a voice which commanded attention and obedience altho it knew no word of English, Iron Lightning was a natural leader of men. In the early part of this century following the Ute Indian uprising, when the Utes had been rounded up and sent to the Cheyenne reservation, it was Iron Lightning who went among them, urging them to forget their grievance with the whites and settle down to peaceful lives.

He was the last Indian, so far as is known, to have continued to live with two wives after the order prohibiting polygamy and further polygamous marriages among the Indians was made. Iron Lightning was called to the Thunder Butte station when this order was received and told he must choose between the two women with whom he was living.

"If the Commissioner has lived with one woman," the chief replied in Indian, "he will know how impossible it is for Iron Lightning to separate himself from two. Iron Lightning laughs."

This speech won for him his case and the two wives were retained. They lived together in harmony, one doing the cooking for the family, which among the Indians is regarded as an honor, for one week when the other came into power for a like period.

OSKALOOSA'S PRIZE ESSAY ON NURSING

In Oskaloosa, Iowa, an essay contest for high school girls on the subject "Why I Should Like to Become a Nurse" was conducted with a good deal of enthusiasm. Three prizes were awarded, the first prize of $10 going to Miss Mabelle Wildman, Oskaloosa High School, whose essay is printed below.

"Why I Should Like to Become a Nurse."

"One hundred years ago—in June, 1820—a baby girl was born to wealthy English parents. As she became older, the desire to do something to help did not grow less or even waver. More than that, she was not a sentimentalist who sat and wept over people's illness and miseries; she was a practical person who sought constantly the means of remedying such illness and miseries. It was this young woman who, during the Crimean War, gave up friends and a life of luxury to go to Scutari in Turkey, that she might better hospital conditions and relieve the wounded soldiers. She struggled against all odds and in spite of discouragement and bitter criticism, she finally conquered.

"Today we are honoring her—her whom we knew as Florence Nightingale. We are paying homage to her name—to the good she has accomplished—to the work she has started. The success she won was due to her joy of service and her indomitable spirit of work. Rightfully, she has been called, A Flame of Service—A Dynamo of Energy.

Probably the most of us have read Longfellow's poem, The Lady of the Lamp. We know that Florence Nightingale was this "Lady" that she was given the name because of the lamp she carried on her nightly visits to the sick soldiers. At the present time every night in Cleveland Nursing Home a light shines thru the window. It is always there; a nurse is always there to answer every call from the sick. Speaking of this, the Public Health Nurse says: "Florence Nightingale kindled that lamp one hundred years ago and the finest womanhood of the world has rallied round it and tended it ever since. It has burned more and more brightly as the years went on—its rays illumine the long path ahead—and we know the same strong, steady loving hands will continue to trim and feed it as long as the night of human sickness and suffering shall last.

"These strong, steady, loving hands are trained nurse's hands—strong because of the service she is able to render; steady, because of the constancy and reliability of that service; and loving because it is willing and cheerful service.

"For the moment let us consider the practical and material side of nursing—nursing, the ideal profession for the high school graduate. The slogan used by the boosters of compulsory militarism is "Learn While You Earn." Thus it is with the nurse's training, for a girl receives not only free board and room during her three years training, but also a weekly salary which varies according to the size and location of the hospital. If she wishes she may specialize in some line, such as anaesthetics, thus demanding a salary sometimes as high as four thousand dollars a year. After her course is completed she is certain of a position as a government, private duty, public health, or missionary nurse, or in some line of educational or institutional nurse work. The great need for workers in these fields has been brought about by the war conditions of the cities in their mad rush for business, and the increased causes of accidents; the reason this need has not been met is due to the many vocations open to young women. No matter what work she takes up, the good nurse is sure of a salary for the field is wide, the work is few and "He who serves will need not be afraid to ask for good wages."

"No other vocation so fully fits a girl with the qualities she needs in later life, either public or home. In her training she learns quick thought and self-mastery; in her practice, the value of love, honor and hope. Then too, she experiences the joy of service, the satisfaction of a work well done. For the sick, she serves as a healer; for the well, she comes as a troubador of health; for her fellow-man, she is a social service worker, a teacher, a community mother, an emblem of his ideals and cheerful service.

"Certainly Florence Nightingale, the Guiding Spirit of the Nurses, was right when she said, "Nursing is the finest of the fine arts."

"In closing let us look upon a picture—upon a hilltop stands a woman clothed in white; one hand is pointing out over the cities and countries stretching out beyond the hill—beckoning to Youth. Above we catch a glimpse of the Spirit of America, and yet above a glimpse of another white robed figure, the great Healer Himself, the Friend of all the world. It seems to us that the last two are watching the woman; that they are nodding their heads in approval. While we are watching the woman begins to speak. 'Come with me, the Spirit of Youth—I am Strength; I am Courage; I am Poise and Self-Mastery; I am Love and Tenderness; I am Knowledge, Skill, Honor and Constancy; I am the Spirit of Service; for I am the Trained Nurse!'

"Scarcely does she finish, when Christ, too, points out over the scene below Him, and speaks. 'Inasmuch as ye do it unto the least of one of these, my brethren, ye do it unto me.'

"Do we dare refuse this calling?"

FAMOUS INDIAN CHIEF PASSES ON

Iron Lightning Dies at Home Near Thunder Butte—Was One of Sitting Bull's Chiefs in Custer Massacre.

PIERRE, S. D.—(By A. P.)—In the recent death of Chief Iron Lightning, at his home near Thunder Butte in the northwestern part of the Cheyenne Indian reservation, the country lost probably the greatest of the few remaining famous Indian characters who figured in the early history of Dakota Territory.

Iron Lightning was one of the sub-chiefs, who under Sitting Bull, participated in the memorable battle of the Little Big Horn, June 25, 1876, when Custer and his band of 261 men were annihilated. He is said to be the last of the chiefs who were in control of the Sioux Nation at that time. He was 76 years old at the time of his death and had for years made his home in the vicinity of Thunder Butte station.

Unusually tall and well proportioned, even for an Indian, and possessing a voice which commanded attention and obedience altho it knew no word of English, Iron Lightning was a natural leader of men. In the early part of this century following the Ute Indian uprising, when the Utes had been rounded up and sent to the Cheyenne reservation, it was Iron Lightning who went among them urging them to forget their grievance with the whites and settle down to peaceful lives.

He was the last Indian, so far as is known, to have continued to live with two wives after the order prohibiting polygamy and further polygamous marriages among the Indians was made. Iron Lightning was called to the Thunder Butte station when this order was received and told he must choose between the two women with whom he was living.

"If the Commissioner has lived with one woman," the chief replied in Indian, "he will know how impossible it is for Iron Lightning to separate himself from two. Iron Lightning laughs."

This speech won for him his case and the two wives were retained. They lived together in harmony, one doing the cooking for the family, which among the Indians is regarded as an honor, for one week when the other came into power for a like period.

OSKALOOSA'S PRIZE ESSAY ON NURSING

In Oskaloosa, Iowa, an essay contest for high school girls on the subject "Why I Should Like to Become a Nurse" was conducted with a good deal of enthusiasm. Three prizes were awarded, the first prize of $10 going to Miss Mabelle Wildman, Oskaloosa High School, whose essay is printed below.

"Why I Should Like to Become a Nurse."

"One hundred years ago—in June, 1820—a baby girl was born to wealthy English parents. As she became older, the desire to do something to help did not grow less or even waver. More than that, she was not a sentimentalist who sat and wept over people's illness and miseries; she was a practical person who sought constantly the means of remedying such illness and miseries. It was this young woman who, during the Crimean War, gave up friends and a life of luxury to go to Scutari in Turkey, that she might better hospital conditions and relieve the wounded soldiers. She struggled against all odds and in spite of discouragement and bitter criticism, she finally conquered.

"Today we are honoring her—her whom we knew as Florence Nightingale. We are paying homage to her name—to the good she has accomplished—to the work she has started. The success she won was due to her joy of service and her indomitable spirit of work. Rightfully, she has been called, A Flame of Service—A Dynamo of Energy.

Probably the most of us have read Longfellow's poem, The Lady of the Lamp. We know that Florence Nightingale was this "Lady"—that she was given the name because of the lamp she carried on her nightly visits to the sick soldiers. At the present time every night in Cleveland Nursing Home a light shines thru the window. It is always there; a nurse is always there to answer every call from the sick. Speaking of this, the Public Health Nurse says: "Florence Nightingale kindled that lamp one hundred years ago and the finest womanhood of the world has rallied round it and tended it ever since. It has burned more and more brightly as the years went on—its rays illumine the long path ahead—and we know the same strong, steady loving hands will continue to trim and feed it as long as the night of human sickness and suffering shall last.

"These strong, steady, loving hands are trained nurse's hands—strong because of the service she is able to render; steady, because of the constancy and reliability of that service; and loving because it is willing and cheerful service.

"For the moment let us consider the practical and material side of nursing—nursing, the ideal profession for the high school graduate. The slogan used by the boosters of compulsory militarism is "Learn While You Earn." Thus it is with the nurse's training, for a girl receives not only free board and room during her three years training, but also a weekly salary which varies according to the size and location of the hospital. If she wishes she may specialize in some line, such as anaesthetics, thus demanding a salary sometimes as high as four thousand dollars a year. After her course is completed she is certain of a position as a government, private duty, public health, or missionary nurse, or in some line of educational or institutional nurse work. The great need for workers in these fields has been brought about by the war conditions of the cities in their mad rush for business, and the increased causes of accidents; the reason this need has not been met is due to the many vocations open to young women. No matter what work she takes up, the good nurse is sure of a salary for the field is wide, the work is few and the life who serves will need not be afraid to ask for good wages."

"No other vocation so fully fits a girl with the qualities she needs in later life, either public or home. In her training she learns quick thought and self-mastery; in her practice, the value of love, honor and hope. Then too, she experiences the joy of service, the satisfaction of a work well done. For the sick, she serves as a healer; for the well, she comes as a troubador of health; for her fellow-man, she is a social service worker, a teacher, a community mother, an emblem of his ideals and cheerful service.

"Certainly Florence Nightingale, the Guiding Spirit of the Nurses was right when she said, "Nursing is the finest of the fine arts."

"In closing let us look upon a picture—upon a hilltop stands a woman clothed in white; one hand is pointing out over the cities and countries stretching out beyond the hill—beckoning to Youth. Above we catch a glimpse of the Spirit of America, and yet above a glimpse of another white-robed figure, the great Healer Himself, the Friend of all the world. It seems to us that the last two are watching the woman; that they are nodding their heads in approval. While we are watching the woman begins to speak. "Come with me, the Spirit of Youth—I am Strength; I am Courage; I am Poise and Self-Mastery; I am Love and Tenderness; I am Knowledge, Skill, Honor and Constancy; I am the Spirit of Service; for I am the Trained Nurse!"

"Scarcely does she finish, when Christ, too, points out over the scene below Him, and speaks. "Inasmuch as ye do it unto the least of one of these, my brethren, ye do it unto me."

"Do we dare refuse this calling?"

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MEREDOSIA RESIDENT

Impressive Services Held for Late Mrs. Nancy A. Laughery Saturday—Other News Notes from Meredosia.

Meredosia, June 27.—The funeral services of Nancy Adeline Laughery were held at the late home Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Fred Reed, pastor of M. E. church.

Deceased was the third child of J. P. and Emmaline Fisher and was born at Frankfort, Mo., March 28, 1854, and died at her home in Meredosia, Illinois, June 23, 1921. Miss Fisher grew to womanhood at Frankfort and there married Charles Laughery. They made their home there for several years then moved to Meredosia which has since been her home. To this union was born five children, three of whom with the father, have preceded the mother into the great beyond; two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Carr of Bridgewater, Mass., and Mrs. Lena Snow of Kremling, Colo., are left to mourn her loss. She also leaves her mother, Mrs. J. P. Fisher; three brothers and four sisters and two grand children, Mrs. Laughery united with the M. E. church of this place during the pastorate of Rev. Kittle and has since been a member here.

Mrs. Fisher was a member of a quartet composed of J. A. Hildebrand, H. A. Naylor, Mrs. B. D. Berger and Mrs. C. G. Wegehoff. The casket bearers were John Moultry, Lee Edlen, C. O. Summers, Robert Mayes, D. F. Beauchamp and C. P. Hedrick.

The remains were taken to Bluffs Sunday morning where they were shipped to Frankfort, Mo., and laid to rest in Frankfort cemetery.

It was a request of the deceased that this poem should be read at her funeral:

Sometime at morn when the tide is low
I shall slip my moorings and sail away—
With no response to the friendly hail of kindred crafts within the bay—
With a dip of the sail I shall fare me away—
To the mystic isles where at anchor lay
The craft of those who have sailed before
O'er the unknown sea to the unseen shore.
A few who have watched me sail away,
Will miss my craft from the busy bay;
Some loving souls that my heart held dear,
In silent sorrow will drop a tear.
But I shall have peacefully furled my sail
In moorings sheltered from storm and gale,
And greeted the friends who have sailed before
O'er the unknown sea to the unseen shore.
